Working place: Italy, United Kingdom

For an English language school providing trainings for international students in the UK, we are looking for a professional with knowledge and experience about the European and Italian system education and related funding instruments. The training course will be provided to the School's new staff members and management (MD, Language Consultant, Marketing Director, English Language Teaching consultant and pedagogist) roughly between March and July 2018.

The training course shall be provided in English.

✓ Tasks

The activity is conceived in two phases:

1. Detailed planning of the course and elaboration of training material to be used during the lectures and later on as informative material for further collaborators to be hired in the future. The School already collected a set of links to official papers and policy positions on the topics of interest, which will be made available to the trainer as a support for the elaboration of the hand-outs.
2. 20-30 hours of training, partly in the UK and partly remotely. Ideally the instructional experience will take place in the UK at the School's training centres or other facilities during one initial full-immersion week, followed by a number of weekly half-day or monthly full-day sessions. However, the School is open to consider different proposals based on the availability and approach of the trainer.

✓ Topics of the training

The School is interested in evaluating instructional design projects including some or all the following topics (or related ones):

- EU Education systems
 - Education and Training Organization, Governance and Funding in Italy
 - Secondary education in Italy: teaching and assessment
 - Other EU education systems
 - Italian education system statistics
- EU Education governance and policies
 - Institutions influencing education and training governance in EU and Italy
